The Software Development - Jolt 1996 Product Excellence Awards on CD-ROM

Every year, Software Development magazine, in conjunction with Jolt Cola, recognizes outstanding and groundbreaking software development tools released the previous year. In the "Academy Awards" of the development industry, the winning products are announced every spring at the Software Development Conference and Exhibition in San Francisco.

This year, we're bringing the Jolt Awards to you on this CD-ROM honoring the winners. Inside, you'll find information about all the winning products in six categories: Books, Design and Management Tools, Languages and Development Environments, Libraries and Components, Utilities, and Special. Plus, product demos of the 1996 winning products, product reviews from Software Development, and an index to all Jolt Award winners — present and past.
